CROATIA — COUNTRY INFO

CROATIA – COUNTRY INFO

ABOUT CROATIA

Croatia is a Central European and Mediterranean country, bordering with Slovenia in the west, Hungary in the north, Serbia in the east and Bosnia and Herzegovina in the south. Croatia also has a long maritime border with Italy on the Adriatic Sea. With more than 1,185 islands, islets and reefs, Croatia is known as a country of a thousand islands. But Croatia has much more to offer than its coast. Although it is among the smallest European countries – only 56,500 km² of land and less than 32,000 km² of sea, it is a place where the Mediterranean, the Alps and the Pannonian plain come together bringing side by side phenomena which are usually many miles apart: within a hundred kilometres you will find the sea, the karst, densely wooded mountains and fertile plains.

Throughout its history Croatia has had numerous contacts with very different cultures and civilizations across its territory and along its boundary like the Greek, Roman, Celtic, Illyrian, Austrian, Hungarian, Byzantine and Islamic. This makes Croatia extremely rich with valuable cultural and historical heritage.

The specific urban culture of coastal and island areas is easily seen in towns such as: Poreč, Rovinj, Pula, Zadar, Šibenik, Hvar, Korčula and Ston, with Split (Diocletian's Palace) and Dubrovnik representing a part of the world cultural heritage under UNESCO protection.

There are two climate zones; a temperate continental climate, locally also a mountainous climate, prevails in the inland, whereas a pleasant Mediterranean climate prevails along the Adriatic coast. The latter has an overwhelming number of sunny days, dry and hot summers, mild and humid winters. Average temperature in the inland: January 0 to 2°C, August 19 to 23°C; average temperature at the seaside: January 6 to 11°C, August 21 to 27 °C; the temperature is about 12°C in winter and 25°C in summer.

ABOUT ZAGREB

Zagreb is the capital of the Republic of Croatia and an old Central European city. For centuries it has been a focal point of culture, science, commerce and industry. It lies on the intersection of important routes between the Adriatic coast and Central Europe.

In 1991 Zagreb became the capital — a political and administrative centre of the Republic of Croatia. Zagreb is also the hub of business, academic, cultural, artistic and sporting activities in Croatia. Many famous scientists, artists and athletes come from the city, or work in it. Zagreb can offer its visitors the Baroque atmosphere of the Upper Town, picturesque open-air markets, diverse shopping facilities, an abundant selection of crafts and a choice of traditional cuisine. Zagreb is a city of green parks and walks, with many places to visit in the beautiful surroundings. The city entered into the third millennium with a population of nearly 800,000 inhabitants. In spite of the rapid development of the economy and transportation, it has retained its charm, and a relaxed feeling that makes it a genuinely human city. INTRODUCING THE UNIVERSITY

Past, Present and Future

Founded in the second half of the 17th century, the University of Zagreb is the oldest Croatian university and one of the oldest universities in Europe. In 1669 Leopold I, the Holy Roman Emperor and King of Hungary, Croatia and Bohemia issued a decree granting the university status and privileges to the Jesuit Academy in Zagreb. Therefore, the year 1669 is regarded as the year of establishment of the University of Zagreb and the 3 November is marked as the University Day. At that time the University of Zagreb encompassed three faculties: Theology, Law and Philosophy. In the years that followed new faculties were established and in the period between the two world wars, the number of the faculties had increased to seven. Since the Second World War up to the present, the University has intensively developed and embraced all areas of science and art.

In 2001, at the Prague ministerial conference, Croatia signed the Bologna declaration and joined the process of harmonization of the European higher education area. The Bologna scheme was adopted in the academic year 2005/06. These changes contributed to a consistent increase in the number of students, masters and doctors in the years that followed and to an overall improvement of research and teaching.

University of Zagreb is in the process of building a new university campus called “Borongaj” which is the biggest investment in Croatian education in the last 150 years, and when it is completed it will be used by more than 20.000 students. The Campus was officially opened on 12 October 2007 and for now it hosts 4 university units: Centre for Croatian Studies, Faculty of Education and Rehabilitation, Faculty of Traffic Engineering and Faculty of Economics and Business (only vocational study programmes in economics and business). Five other faculties are also planning to relocate on campus in the next few years.

Besides the (re)construction of university buildings, Campus will be home to a sports centre, student residence hall and a number of institutes.

Centre for Art Research will also be situated on Campus, in a former military warehouse adapted to accommodate its needs (ateliers, studios, exhibit halls).

The ECTS - system and Student Progress Assessment

ECTS - European Credit Transfer System

The European Credit Transfer System is based on the total amount of work a student has to produce; it does not only take class hours/attendance into account but also time spent on personal research (whether at home or in libraries) as well as preparing for and taking exams or tests is also included.

1 ECTS credit is equivalent of approximately 30 working/learning hours. Credits are awarded only when the course has been completed and all required examinations have been successfully taken. 60 ECTS credits represent the workload of a year study, 30 ECTS credits a semester.

The use of this system makes transfers from foreign institutions easier.

Student Transcript Book – “Indeks”

Upon enrolment students get their own student transcript book – in Croatian “indeks”. It contains basic information on courses taken, grades awarded and ECTS achieved. It is useful to carry it during the last four weeks of the semester when professors with their signature certify attendance at the courses. When the student passes the exam the professor will write down the grade and ECTS the student got and will sign it as well one more time.

Examinations and Grading System

Within the same academic year students cannot take more than three examinations on the same course.

The Faculty may decide special examination modalities for exchange students (Erasmus, Erasmus Mundus, bilateral cooperation agreements or similar). In this case the exchange students should get in touch with the involved professor and/or ECTS-coordinator at the Faculty before the examination period.

The Croatian national grading scale consists of five grades with numerical equivalents:

5 = excellent - izvrstan (highest grade)

4 = very good - vrlo dobar

3 = good - dobar

2 = sufficient - dovoljan (minimum pass grade)

1 = fail - nedovoljan (is not written in “indeks”)

Attending university presents an experience that directs and trains an individual in his area of interest while encouraging him to develop his full potential. Alongside carrying out academic commitments, it also provides an opportunity to master communication, presentation, organizational and life skills that help a person build a satisfying and fulfilling life and career.

As well as encompassing a wide range of interesting facts and novelties, attending the faculty of one's choice presents an area of dealing with new and multiple challenges. Some of these challenges are difficulties of adjustment to the new environment, concerns about the selection of studies, underdeveloped learning strategies as well as dealing with personal problems and development of psychological disorders (anxiety, depression symptoms...).

In order to provide support in the development and improvement of students' academic and career-life skills, the University of Zagreb established the Student Counselling and Support Centre. The Centre started working in the academic year 2013/2014, and its activities and services are available to students of all faculties and academies of the University of Zagreb.

The Centre organizes various forms of activities within the following areas:

- counselling related to academic and personal problems (psychological counselling),
- career counselling,
- academic and life skills development (such as communication, social and stress coping skills, as well as learning strategies and time management skills).

These activities are conducted through:

- individual counselling,
- group counselling,
- educational workshops and lectures,
- academic skills workshops,
- career-life skills workshops,
- development of educational and self-help materials.

Experts within the Centre can also assist in finding other support services with respect to the needs and potential difficulties of the students.

Office for Students with Disabilities

The University of Zagreb is set to ensure accessibility and quality of higher education for all students. Office for students with disabilities is part of the University's Student Counselling and Support Center and offers assistive technology and additional support and advising to all students with various types of disabilities.

The Office is part of the Student Counselling and Support Center and is intended for all students who, due to an illness or disability, experience difficulties in conducting everyday academic activities (students with impaired sight or hearing, motor disabilities, chronic illnesses, mental disabilities and illnesses, specific learning difficulties such as dyslexia, dysgraphia and ADHD and other health issues and impairments that might affect the course of their education).

Important roles at the Office are played by:

- Coordinators for students with disabilities – teachers appointed at each of the University’s constituent units (faculties/academies): contact-persons that students can turn to in relation to their right to have courses or exams adjusted to their needs, and for any other issues related to students with disabilities.
- Coordination for students with disabilities – student representatives appointed at each of the University’s constituent units, who are tasked with presenting needs, proposing activities and evaluating actions that have been implemented.

The Student Counselling and Support Centre’s experts will be happy to assist You in finding other support services with respect to Your needs and possible difficulties.

Feel free to contact us without hesitation in order to successfully face academic and life challenges with new skills and knowledge!

LEISURE ACTIVITIES

Zagreb and its surroundings offer a great variety of sports and leisure activities for anybody's taste. If you like spending time in nature, try Medvednica Mountain, which extends just above the city. It is a favourite excursion area for the city people not only because of its protected nature but also because of a dozen cosy restaurants situated on its slopes serving tasty and inexpensive domestic food. Medvednica is equally popular in winter when it turns into the biggest ski-centre in Croatia. Apart from having a mountain nearby, Zagreb can equally boast of its own "Zagreb sea", the Jarun Sports and Recreation Centre comprised of a number of lakes and an impressive rowing course. If, on the other hand, you prefer indoor sports try the sports centres "Mladost", "SRC Šalata", "Dom Športova" etc.

Taking part in and following sports is a passion with Croatians and many Croatian sports people and coaches have a world reputation.

EATING OUT

Zagreb offers a great variety of cuisine. There are many restaurants with national as well as international food. They vary in prices but are generally quite pleasant. Zagreb Restaurant Guide can be found at the following link

CULTURE AND ENTERTAINMENT

Zagreb is the cultural centre of Croatia. There are 15 theatres, a dozen concert halls and numerous cinemas. Zagreb is also a European centre for modern and alternative movements in culture. The well-known music Zagreb Bienial Eurokaz Festival of New Theatre, the Contemporary Dance and Performance Week of Zagreb Artists, Zagreb Film Festival are all important parts of the European cultural scene.

Zagreb is proud of its many galleries and museums where you can find or even purchase diverse works of art.

Young people have plenty of opportunities for entertainment. There are many discos, pubs and cafés where one can dance the night away or just have a nice cup of coffee with a friend.

NIGHTLIFE

Croatia's party city is without a doubt Zagreb. It has a limitless supply of bars, cafés, pubs and night-clubs suitable for all tastes. You have the Upper Town with the sinuous, bar-lined Tkalciceva street and the Lower Town with Bogoviceva and Trg Preradovica plus the Branimir Centre across from the train station. In the recent years, after the city had built a Then you have Out-of-Town down by Jarun Lake and south of the Sava river (where a car is most convenient). For the most part, the vibe is pretty relaxed in Zagreb clubs. Ruthlessly selective door policies and watery cocktails have not yet made inroads onto the scene. There are a few clubs where you're expected to show up in movie-star fashion but they are a definite exception. The cover runs from about 30 to 50HRK. Drinks are about the same.
